

Would you like to spend your holidays with people of the same age, improving your German, trying out new things and, at the same time, discovering the hidden side of Berlin? Then get in touch with a 'Berliner Ferienschule'.

Waiting for you in the Easter, Summer or Autumn holidays...

- trips to a whole range of interesting places in your neighbourhood and throughout the entire city,
- activities such as directing a film or music video, theatre plays, or the opportunity to participate in other creative workshops,
- sports such as skateboarding, climbing, bike rides, dancing and football,
- while learning German with the support of friendly and motivated teachers,
- and receiving information about careers and what education is required in this regard.

How to get involved:

Speak to one of the teachers at your school. They can then explain how you can participate in one of the holiday schools. There are a number of groups available across Berlin, for children and young people respectively. The offer is free of charge.
